THE INSUFFERABLES

The image features a repeating pattern of a baby's face and upper body, arranged in a grid. The baby is shown from the chest up, with its hands near its face, against a black background. The text "385,000 per day" is overlaid in the center in a large, white, sans-serif font.

MARCH OF THE MACHINE MAKES IDLE HANDS

By EVANS CLARK.

A FEW days ago the General Motors Corporation reported the largest peace-time earnings ever made by a single concern in the history of America. Three days later Governor Smith made public a report from the New York Industrial Commissioner which called public attention to serious unemployment throughout the State: not since the depression of 1921, it was disclosed, have conditions been as bad.

The people of the United States—in the shadow of a Presidential election—are presented with a social have gone far to make construction a machine industry instead of a collection of hand trades. One gasoline crane takes the place of ten or twelve laborers. The hod-carrier has disappeared before the invasion of the material hoist. In concrete construction building materials are mixed, like dough, in a machine and literally poured into place without the touch of a human hand. The Ohio figures record these results: with 15 per cent. fewer men employed, contractors put up 11 per cent. more square feet of finished buildings last year than in 1927.
